

An exciting new publication for academicians and practitioners

Announcement

Journal of Service Science

The Journal of Service Science will highlight the latest issues in service, combining technology, business, and management, and represent a publishing outlet for academicians and practitioners in the constituent areas of the discipline including, but not limited to, the following subjects:

Service marketing
Service information
systems
Service innovation
Service science
Practical studies of Service systems
Service engineering
Service strategy

Service design
Service productivity
Service quality
Service operations
Service applications
Service research
Service computing
IT service management
Service governance

Sponsored by
Savannah State University
College of Business Administration

Contact
Editor: Harry Katzan, Jr.
Associate Editor: William Dowling
jss@savstate.edu
912-356-2858
P.O. Box 20359
Savannah, GA 31404
Fax: 912-353-3184

All manuscripts are double-blind peer reviewed. The journal is managed, produced, and distributed by the Clute Institute, P.O. Box 620760, Littleton, CO 80162, web address: www.CluteInstitute.com, email: Staff@CluteInstitute.com, office: 303-904-4750, fax: 303-978-0413. The Clute Institute publishes nine other business, economics, and education journals listed in appropriate directories. The Clute Institute promotes the publishing of quality academic research and was founded in 1985 by Ron Clute, PhD.